Nordson MEDICAL’s design and development solutions are aligned with your objectives, parameters, and timelines to ensure the best pathway to success. Our 3i Project Booster Session is a creative concept generation and down-selection process to rapidly move you from idea to defined pathway for development. Our 3R External Design Review reduces technical risk by reviewing, researching, and recommending a path for optimal design, providing a fresh set of eyes on your design and increasing confidence prior to capital investment in process tooling.
